

INVITATION

The War Archive is delighted to invite you to the presentation by Antigoni Kamberou

GREECE-TURKEY: ALLIANCES-DIVORCES

An approach of the Greek-Turkish relations with regards to the Law of the Sea

Saturday 14 November 2015 at 7.30 pm

The presentation will be in Greek

This presentation will focus on the issues which concern the two odd partners/allies i.e Greece and Turkey. We will explain terms used extensively by the media and which are not familiar to the wider public.

What is the definition of the continental shelf? What does it mean “violation of the Athens FIR”? What is the delimitation of the territorial sea waters, EEZ (exclusive economic zone), the delimitation of the Greek air space? What is the status of the islands and the islets? What does the New Law of the Sea stipulate? What defines the 6, 10 or 12 miles? Why do we not file a lawsuit in the Hague International Court of Justice? Why Turkey calls the Aegean, a “Greek lake”?

What would the “co-management” of the Aegean by both parties at this point mean? What kind of problems would such a solution bring? What other issues would entail?

The presenter

Antigoni Kamberou was born in Athens, daughter of Evangelos Kamberos, solicitor and a well known literary figure in Piraeus. She studied English, German and Italian literature at the Glasgow and Hamburg Universities and did her postgraduate studies at the European Institute at the University of Geneva on the Greek-Turkish difference on the international maritime law. Her Ph.D focused on aspects of European culture. She taught English, German and Greek in Geneva and after her return to Greece, she taught European Studies at Panteion University and English terminology at the Kapodistrian University. Her first presentation in literature is this book on the life of the early Greek aviator D.Kamberos.
