

The Archive of History and Art-the War Archive

invites you to the presentation of the book

"The soldiers of the Greek Army during WWII, Vol. I, 1938-41"

By Dimitrios Papadopoulos

21 November 2020 at 19.00, via ZOOM (details in red above)

Dimitris Papadopoulos is a good friend and long-time supporter of the Archive. Having studied in Florence archaeological conservation and participated in excavations, his area of interest and expertise widened to a huge collection of information as well as artefacts of the Greek Army during the WWII, Resistance and Civil War.

He has published widely on related topics and more recently he has been organising historical revivals and re-enactments of WWII battles as well as the professional reproduction of uniforms and ,equipment of the Greek Army.

The book he will be presenting focuses on the uniforms and equipment of the Greek Army during WWII. His book is in English but the presentation will be in Greek.
