by Antigoni Kamberou on
The life and work of her father Evaggelos Kamberos

A lawyer, actor and author, a dedicated communist who fought, and suffered, in the troubled period in Greece during the WWII, Civil War and military junta. His daughter Antigoni will talk about his life and work and of her personal memories of him both as a personality in the public life and as a father.

Antigoni Kamberou

Born in Athens, she studied philology at the Universities of Strathclyde in Scotland and Hamburg and completed postgraduate and doctoral studies in the European Institute at Geneva University and at the Athens Panteion University. Her specialist areas include the Greco-Turkish conflicts over the international law of the sea.
