Nikos Asimakopoulos

The Souliots and their contribution to the 1821 Revolution
On Saturday 27 March 2021 at 19.00 via Zoom

The presentation will be in Greek.

The contribution of the Souliots to the national war of independence has not been given its proper place in the history of modern Greece. The Souliots, a regional Greek ethnic group, had a long prehistory in resisting the rule of the Ottoman Empire and played a crucial role during the first months of the outbreak of the Revolution.

The presenter, Nikos Asimakopoulos, a graduate of the Panteion University, has a distinguished career in publishing. He is the founder of the publishing house «Vergina» (1977) which specialised in the publication of schoolbooks, and later on books covering Greece's history from ancient to modern times as well as books on literature. His own recent publication covers the topic of his presentation.
