The film is multilingual with subtitles in Greek where necessary and lasts 98'.

From the Greek Civil War, the war in Afghanistan, from Franco's dictatorship in Spain, to the Covid 19, from the French territory Reunion in the Indian Ocean to Siberia, a lot of children were involuntarily uprooted from their home environment for political reasons. From the testimony of seven different people from Spain, Greece, ex-USSR, Afghanistan and French Reunion we share their terrible experiences of the the uprooting and loss of identity.

The director Eleni Alexandraki graduated in film studies from Sorbonne in Paris, and National Film and TV School , UK. She is the founder of Pomegranate Film and she has directed numerous fiction and documentary films and received numerous prizes in festivals in US, Europe, Turkey and Greece.
